BLAIRMORE BOY IS GRADUATE

Among the student pilots proceeding to service flying training schools recently is mentioned LAC P. Duncan Larbalestier, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Larbalestier, of Blairmore.

Duncan graduated at Abbotsford, B.C., with a large class. He arrived home on Wednesday on a nine-day leave and will later be located at Macleod to finish training.

ALBERTA WEATHER

IN NOVA SCOTIA

Down near New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, on January 18th, they were complaining of being molested by black and brown caterpillars. Better come out to Alberta and experience an occasional mosquito bite at the same time.

EMPLOYERS REQUESTED REPORT EMPLOYMENT LEVEL

A. McNamara, director of National Selective Service, announces that a survey of employment in industry is being undertaken by the Department of Labor to secure comprehensive data on the distribution of employment as of January 8th, 1944. A similar survey was conducted in January a year ago.

Employers will be required to report on the number of their employees, separated as to male and female and grouped in age classes. Also, employers will be asked for estimates on the number of employees they will require as at June 30 next. In manufacturing and construction, employers are asked to separate their totals to show the numbers engaged on war work and the numbers engaged on civilian production or in civilian services. The information is very necessary in connection with manpower plans. The data secured a year ago was of very substantial assistance in helping through labor shortages. It is estimated that 180,000 employers will file returns.

BROWN-CLARK

At the Co-Operative Hall, Tollcross, Glasgow, Scotland, on December 14th last, by Rev. T. McClements, the marriage took place of Bdr. John Brown, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, of Hillcrest, Alberta, to Helen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, of Glasgow.

A bachelor is a man who never Mrs. Anything.

UNITED CHURCH

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual congregational meeting of Central United Church was held in the auditorium on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, with a fairly good attendance. A short devotional service, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Arrol, B.A., preceded the business session. Mr. Donald MacTherson occupied the chair.

The secretary-treasurer, Mr. Sam McDowell, presented the financial statement for the year 1943, showing all obligations met, the sum of $216 having been raised for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund and a balance of $294 in the bank with which to commence the new year.

The Ladies Aid Society, under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Moore, reported having had a very successful year. In her report stated that the sum of $815 had been raised during the year. In her report, Mrs. Jack Patterson pointed out that the money raised by the society had come from such activities as teas, sales of home cooking, circle teas and a general canvass for money contributions from members and interested friends. $249.50 being realized from this general canvass alone.

The new president elect for 1944 is Mrs. Evan Morgan.

Mr. Roland Pinkney, who has been the treasurer for the Sunday schools for a number of years, was unable to be present on account of illness. Mr. Pinkney is now receiving medical treatment at a Portland, Oregon, hospital. The secretary was instructed to send flowers with the sympathy of the congregation, and hopes for a speedy recovery. In the absence of Mr. Pinkney, the report of the Sunday schools was read by Mr. Arrol. The total amount raised by both senior and junior schools was $235.82. They had given the sum of $106.98 to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, and other donations went to the Queen's Fund, Pass Relief Fund, the church board toward kalsomining, etc., and an amount to help reduce the deficit of the United Church of Canada.

Mrs. D. A. Howe, in reporting for the junior Sunday school, pointed out some of the school's activities which are entered into heartily by the children. The first Sunday of each month is missionary Sunday, when a missionary story precedes the lesson period. The pupils continue to make use of mission boxes, a birthday bank known as the patriotic box, from which contributions are made from time to time to worthwhile causes. There is a cradle roll on which are the names of 33 children under the age of four, and these are remembered by birthday cards as birthdays come around. As last year, it was pointed out again that some young men and women are misused from the ranks of the senior Sunday school and Young People's Society on account of their being in some branch of this armed forces.

Miss Dorothy Moore is leader of a very active CGIT group, and her report was very illuminating. The younger girls are under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Hamilton, and they at all times give excellent account of themselves. Two groups of younger boys are in the care of Mr. Alfred McKay and Mrs. J. J. Murray. Other leaders with the smaller boys are Mrs. Warner, Mrs. S. Bannan, Mrs. Coover, Mrs. Scraba and Elsie Arrol, all of whom are doing excellent work.

A Christmas tree and concert was presented to a crowded auditorium, which event is always a grand climax to the year's activities of the Sunday schools.

In reporting for the Session, Rev. Mr. Arrol stated that twelve new members had united with the church, seventeen adults and children had been baptized, twenty-five marriages

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mundt left Saturday for their home in Vancouver.

After a lapse of fifteen years, Mrs. Bert Connelly is again teaching the Lee school.

The Ladies Aid of the United Church gathered at the home of Mrs. A. Swart on Saturday afternoon to pack boxes for soldier boys with fruit cakes, cookies, candies, razor blades, tooth paste, shaving cream and handkerchiefs. Packages were mailed to Jack Cowan, Jack Bundy, Norman McMillan, Willard Dwyer and Raymond Cleland overseas, and to Clare Snyder and Lloyd Morrison in Eastern Canada.

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS

Quite recently Mrs. A. Civitarese and family arrived back to Hillcrest after a stay of five or six months at the Pacific coast.

Mr. Ben Carter is visiting a brother in the U.S.A., who is seriously ill.

The usual meeting of the Hillcrest branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the Masonic hall on the night of Tuesday, January 11, when Mr. G. E. Cruickshank was re-elected president, Mrs. J. Dudley vice-president, and Mrs. W. H. Moser as secretary-treasurer. The financial statement showed: Receipts—Cash on hand and in bank $319.91, donations $36.58, campaign fund $239, from what drive $15, from Bellevue branch $420, total receipts $1,081.29. Disbursements—Supplies $246.54, advertising $22.25, stamps $2.10, campaign fund $450, to Alberta division $200, total disbursements $900.89. Cash on hand and in bank December 31, 1943, $130.40. The women's war work committee reported that seven shipments of garments, totalling 712 articles, were sent to the home land during the year.

WE MUST ADVANCE

We must advance with the same vigor and energy after the war that we are now using for the war itself. We must pursue better housing with the same effort and effectiveness that we are now devoting to price control. We must conceive and carry out social insurance with the same boldness and thoroughness with which we have raised the income tax for war purposes.

We must have the same courage and faith in financing useful peacetime development as we have had to apply in financing the war. We must retain the confidence we have gained in the war and shake off forever the frustration which fell upon us in the 1930's. — J. L. Halsey, minister of finance.

Mr. William Mulock celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary at Toronto on Wednesday. He is still going strong and never drank anything weaker than water.

Mr. and Mrs. Stievenard are leaving Blairmore very shortly to take up retired residence at Nelson, B.C. They have many friends in Blairmore and The Pass who will miss them.

had been performed, eight funerals had been conducted, and the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper had been dispensed twice during the year.

Expression of appreciation was given by various members for the good work done by the minister, Mr. Arrol expressed his own sincere appreciation for the excellent services rendered by the members of the various church boards, the Ladies Aid, group leaders, Sunday school teachers, the choir, the orchestra and the church organist, Elsie Arrol.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the Ladies Aid Society, and a happy time of fellowship was enjoyed.

CANADIAN WOMEN'S

ARMY CORPS

In the dark, forgettable days of 1940, His Majesty the King used these words to his people:

"Let us go forward to that task as one man, a smile on our lips and our heads high, and with God's help we shall not fail."

To the peoples of the hard-pressed British Empire listening then to that great pronouncement of faith and courage it seemed a task whose fulfillment was almost impossible. Now, four years later, surrounded on all sides by the signs of Victory, with the Atlantic Charter uniting all nations who are lovers of freedom in the fight for its preservation, those grim days seem very far away.

That the people of England, of Canada, and of the whole Empire rallied as they did under their inspired leaders is one of the great miracles of history. That miracle could not have been accomplished without the whole-hearted self-sacrificing effort of every member of these nations.

There is one aspect of this total war effort which can be praised, and that is the work which has and is being done by women, and particularly by the women of Canada.

When the war broke out, women's organizations all across Canada began approaching the government for permission to form auxiliary branches to the three fighting services. But it was not until August, 1941, that an order-in-council authorized the formation of the Canadian Women's Army Corps as an auxiliary. In September, the first recruits enlisted and by March, 1942, the corps had grown so greatly in numbers that it became part of the Canadian active army.

The Canadian Women's Army Corps is not an auxiliary. It is an active force, and save for actual combat duties its members serve in all things exactly as do the men of Canada's army. The women who enlist to serve in the Canadian Women's Army Corps wear the general service badge. This means that they have enlisted to serve anywhere in the world, for the duration of the war and for a period of twelve months thereafter, should His Majesty so long require their services.

Any woman who is between the ages of 18 and 45, who is physically fit, with at least grade 8 education and who has no young children dependent upon her, may enlist in the CWAC. She will receive 80 per cent of the pay of the men, as well as clothing allowances and free issue of all kit and uniforms. If she is married to a man in the services she will continue to receive her dependent's allowance. She will also receive dependent's allowance for any close relative whose support she is, with the exception of young children.

When a girl decides to enlist in the CWAC she takes a medical examination first of all and if she is successful in passing this, she is then attested and sworn into the corps. This means that she takes her oath of allegiance to her King and Country and to the Army. This oath is as binding as that taken by the men.

Then, having been issued her kit she goes, if she is a western girl, to the Vermilion, Alberta, where No. 2 Canadian Women's Army Corps basic training centre is established in the buildings which formerly housed the Agricultural College. Here she will learn drill, marching, first aid self-protection from gas warfare and all the things which will turn her into a good soldier. Above all she will learn that she is now part of a unit numbering over 12,000 Canadian women.

She will discover that there is comradeship and a corps of spirit with her sisters in uniform, the value of which she will endure long after the war is over.

Calgary reports a dam loan paid off.

MANY BLAIRMORE

POLES HAVE OCCASION TO FEEL YOUNGER

Many Blairmore folks, men, women and children, plus those useless things that are trying by all means to avoid military service, could not but be influenced by the activities of a Blairmore 84-year-old citizen, who in his spare time this week was busy with a wheelbarrow and saw gathering wood for his widower home. We regret that we have not been able to get a photo snap of him in action, for it really would be worth while.

DRINKER PROBLEM IS ### HARD ONE FOR COURT

Over in London recently a problem faced the judge, hearing a case of a guy charged with drinking other than water. The court seemed to want him bound over for two years on condition he did not drink alcohol. He pleaded that "you will take away some of my strength through refusal of beer, and I work hard as a boiler-maker." The court adjourned the case, awaiting a compromise. When asked if he could fulfil the condition the court wanted to impose, he said he thought he might if they allowed him two pints a day with his lunch.

THE BOY SCOUT SPIRIT

A group of boys broke into a Boy Scout hall at Leeds, England, and stole a number of things. When they appeared in the juvenile court, the Scoutmaster was present to offer to take them into the Scout troop. The boys agreed and the judge turned them over to the Scoutmaster.

ONE ON MR. CHURCHILL

Winston Churchill, according to reliable authority, recently hailed a cab in the West End and told the cabbie to drive him to BBC studio. The famous premier was scheduled to make a radio speech to the world.

"Sorry, sir," said the driver, "ye'll have to get yourself another cab; I can't go that far."

Mr. Churchill was surprised, and asked the cabbie why his field of operation was so limited.

"It hain't, hardly, sir," apologized the driver, "but, ye see, sir, Mr. Churchill is broadcasting in his hour, and I wants to get 'ome to 'ear 'im."

Mr. Churchill was so pleased that he pulled out a pound note and handed it to the driver, who took one quick look at it, and exclaimed: "op in, sir; to blazes with Churchill."

G. W. Buchanan, of Pincher Creek, celebrated his 88th birthday on January the 15th.

Grass fires did considerable damage to farms and farm properties in the region north and west of Calgary on Wednesday.

A blanket postponement of military training for men employed in coal mining has been extended to August 1st, 1944. Similar extension has been applied to the ban on acceptance of coal miners for voluntary enlistment in any branch of the armed forces.

Mr. G. A. Campbell, superintendent of the Blairmore Iron Works, had the misfortune to fall from a ladder a few days ago, sustaining painful injuries, including a fracture of the left leg above the knee. He is able to move around slightly on crutches, his leg being in a cast.

Appointed Supervisor

Miss Edith (known as "Betty") Hemington, who has been appointed Supervisor of Stewardesses for Trans-Canada Air Lines, with headquarters at Winnipeg. Formerly Chief Stewardess at Lethbridge, she entered T.C.A. service in 1941. Miss Hemington was born at Manson, Man., and is a graduate of St. Boniface hospital.

Airway Plan

Western Canada Shows Enthusiasm For New Airports

C. R. Patterson, president of the Aeronautical Institute of Canada, said in an interview in Toronto that the provinces and principal cities of Western Canada have shown enthusiasm for a plan to establish 400 new airports and landing strips across the Dominion, capable of employing 20,000 to 25,000 demobilized R.C.A.F. personnel after the war.

Home from a tour of the Canadian West, Mr. Patterson said the plan, projected by the Aeronautical Institute and the National Industrial Federation, was favored by 22 communities from Winnipeg to Victoria and by provincial officials of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Mr. Patterson said the Aeronautical Institute believes between 50,000 and 60,000 members of the R.C.A.F. will seek employment in postwar Canadian flying. He said the air-transport development plan and resulting growth of feeder lines would give work to 20,000 to 25,000 men.

Had Great Career

Late Sir Dudley Pound Was Most Efficient Naval Officer

The late Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound had greater experience of naval affairs afloat and ashore in war and in peace than any other officer on the active list of the Royal Navy, states the London Daily Sketch. In the last war he was second in command of the battleship St. Vincent and commanded the battleship Colossus at the Battle of Jutland. He also served at the Admiralty. As a Rear-Admiral he commanded a battle cruiser squadron and on promotion became Second Sea Lord. He was Commander-in-Chief Mediterranean for a longer period than any other officer and was naval head of the Admiralty for a greater period than any other member of the Board of Admiralty either in the last war or this. Twice he saved the lives of men of his ships' companies—once by diving overboard and on another occasion by going down into a gassed potato locker.

Join Up

Children Evacuated From Britain Have Enlisted In Services In Dominion

Many boys among the 2,600 children evacuated to the Dominions by the British government early in the war have joined the army, air force or navy of the Dominion they were sent to and only a "negligible percentage" have returned to Britain.

"Those who have joined up in the Dominions are giving a splendid account of themselves," said an official of the Children's Overseas Reception Board, the government liaison between parents here and foster parents in the Dominions.

Used Electric Ear

Woman Has Measured Noise Made By An Enraged Rattlesnake

Although the announcement does not say so, it may be assumed that some useful purpose has been served by Miss Bella McClurkin, of the General Electric laboratories, who with the aid of an "electric ear" has measured the noise made by an enraged rattlesnake 3 feet 7 inches long. (She found that the noise amounted to 75 decibels, the equivalent to that made by half a dozen typewriters (not noiseless) in action or the clatter of dishes in a small restaurant.—New York Herald Tribune.

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Miss Ellen Godfrey, Sheffield, Eng., bequeathed $225 to each of the widows and orphans of Sheffield air raids.

Dr. Liu Shih Shun, Chinese minister to Canada, has been presented with a six-pounder anti-tank gun and equipment for the Chinese army.

Restoration work on more than 150 Russian coal mines in the Donets basin is in full swing, Assistant Commissioner Abakumov said.

A copy of John Milton's "Paradise Lost," printed on vellum and published in 1902, realized $279 at a London sale.

French police estimate that 500 persons, Frenchmen and Germans, meet violent death every day throughout France, a Paris despatch to the Tribune de Geneva said.

The President of Brazil has presented the United States armed forces with 40,000 bags of coffee valued at $5,000,000 as a gift from the people of Brazil, a token of good will.

The Northwest African Air Force announced that since the original Allied landings in North Africa 22,526,485 tons of shipping have been escorted through the Mediterranean with losses of 1½ per cent.

The Duchess of Kent is selling most of the furniture of her former London home in the West End. The greater part of the furniture has been in storage since the house was damaged during an air raid.

Charles Fennel, 63, who sold more than $2,000,000 worth of savings certificates on his own in the last four years, died suddenly at Newbury, England. He was chef and sold the certificates in his spare time.

In Red Cross Service

New Swedish Ship Will Carry Canadian Wheat To Greece

The Berne radio said that the new Swedish ship Skagrar, 2,680 tons, will be used to carry shipment of wheat for the International Red Cross from Canada to Greece. The broadcast, recorded by CBS, quoted a message from Stockholm. It also said that the Hungarian, likewise a new ship, will carry packages for prisoners of war from the United States to France.

Both ships will be in service of the Red Cross.

This Map Tells All

It is hard to decide whether the above map, shown with its creator, Grahame Cairns, draughtsman in the Canadian Pacific Railway's engineering office, Winnipeg, is a chart or a sort of quick-glance encyclopedia of railway information. Working diligently for many months, Mr. Cairns transferred from a score of books and records a wealth of information onto a map 11 feet long and three feet wide, showing western lines of the C.P.R. Clearly shown are all stations, sidings, junctions, subdivisions, divisions and districts, with mileages, summaries of mileages. Terminals, divisions and districts are also summarized. Double-track portions, joint-section trackage, standard time zones and provincial boundaries also are delineated. The map gives the history of the development of the C.P.R.'s lines in the west at one glance. Railwaymen who like the idea of having all information on a piece of paper already are clamoring for prints of the Winnipeg map's unique chart.

Sight For Children

Test-Lighting Of English Town Was Unfamiliar Spectacle

A glimpse of what it will be like "when the lights go on again" was afforded the London borough of Deptford by test lighting the borough's main street.

People rushed into the street to see the unfamiliar spectacle. Children, some of whom had never seen the lamps lit, exclaimed to one another.

The lights of London, like those all over Britain, have been blacked out since a few days before war broke out in 1939.

Before the war, Britain produced one-third of her food, now she produces two-thirds.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 23

JESUS TEACHES IN PARABLES

Golden text: If any man hath ears to hear, let him hear. Mark 4:23.
Lesson: Mark 4:1-34.
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 8:1-10.

Explanations and Comments

The Parable of the Sower, Mark 4:1-9. The opposition of the religious leaders closed the synagogues to Jesus and he began to teach by the seaside. So large a number congregated to hear him that he had to seek a pulpit on a boat anchored off from the shore. Here he taught them many things by parables. The Greek word from which our word "parable" is derived means "to put one thing beside another." Jesus' parables picture things in nature which have their counterpart in the spiritual life.

The first parable that Jesus told on this special day was the parable of the Sower who with prodigal hand sowed seed in four kinds of soil. In the interpretation of the parable, verses 14 and 15, Jesus explains that he himself is the Sower, for the seed sown is the Word of God (Lk. 8:11). Some of the seed fell on paths through the unfenced fields and was quickly devoured by the birds. That wayside path was once as fit for the reception of seed as the rest of the field, but it had been trodden till the soil was packed, and the seed fell on it, not into it. Like that hard soil are the minds of some men, closed impenetrable to the word of God.

Other seed fell on rocky ground. This ground was covered with a thin layer of soil and the rock beneath was not viable, but there it was, and the shallowness of the soil prevented the developing seed from striking its roots deep and firm. The heat of the sun causes a quick germinating and equally quick withering. An exact picture this of thousands who are touched by some fervent address, whose impression is only temporary and "for a time".

Yet other seed fell where there were thorns which choked the plants that developed before they could produce fruit. When the grain begins to spring up, there is a struggle between it and the holder, sturdier than it. After an ineffectual effort to assert itself, the slender wheat plant gives up the contest, and contents itself with what energy remains over, when its harder antagonist has taken all it required.

"Notice how carefully our Lord discriminates between the different kinds of thorn, verses 18 and 19. Care steals away the strength of the heart in the poor; wealth in the rich; pleasure-seeking in all, especially the young. If it is not other things that are wrong, but the lusts of other things, i.e., inordinate love; and the multiplicity of interests, which drain away the attention and divert the righteousness of the soul."

Demand Cash

Some Firms Dealing With Germany Are Not Giving Credit

Lyons silk manufacturers, who have been supplying a large part of their products to Germany for making parachutes, are holding up material because they have not received payment according to contract. They now want a "cash-and-carry" arrangement in place of a long-term payment basis.

Famous Dombeq cherry firm of Spain has refused an order for approximately $10,000 worth of wine placed by a German firm. The Spanish company required 50 per cent cash on delivery. The German firm was unwilling of unable to meet this request.—London Daily Sketch.

Nearly one-quarter of China, land which once grew crops and great forests, is now a desert of bare hills without enough soil to support the growth of the toughest weeds.

All Resources Needed

War Production Must Continue To Make Coming Invasion Successful

"There will be no margin" when the real assault begins.

Those who have been assuming that the time for war production is over might ponder these words by Mr. Eden:

"Military plans which he laid down at Teheran call for all our Allied resources in every respect. "There will be no margin and it is going to take all our energies to fulfill demands which will be made upon us in very near future."

In other words Mr. Eden intimates that when the major attack on Germany begins, perhaps very soon, all available supplies and resources will be thrown into the struggle. There will, he says, be "no margin." Nothing will be left over. So if there is to be the reserve of prudence demands production facilities will have to be kept operating.—Sault Daily Star.

By ANNE ADAMS

Think of it! You can cut this child's apron, Pattern 4599, from one yard of cotton fabric. Choose a pretty print and spark it up with bright, contrasting bias binding. Colorful percale for a kitchen version, dotted swiss for a sewing apron are good choices. Make several.

Pattern 4599 is available in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size takes 1 yard 30-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coin (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send order to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 170 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. "Because of the slowness of the mails delivery of our patterns may take a few days longer than usual."

In July, 1941, Winston Churchill said, "We are a seafaring race and we understand the call of the sea."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

FIREWORKS

—By—
RUTH GILBERT COCHRAN
McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Sarah, the towering old Jamaican negress who does the farm chores on my little place in the Berkshires, is a great stickler for justice. She told me that over at the County Employment Office when I went there in May last year to see about getting a strong, reliable woman who would be willing to work for little more than her keep. But I never knew how true it was until the fourth of July.

"You'll find her a treasure, Mrs. Taylor," Dr. Voss said. "She's as strong as an ox and a wonderful hand with animals. But watch out for squalls if she thinks she's being treated unfairly. A contractor had back part of her pay last week and she took down his—er—clothes and spanked him!"

I chuckled. "Sounds like a good ally for a lone woman like me."

"You'll like her. She's out shingling a barn today, but I'll send her over in the morning."

I did like Sarah from the first glimpse I had of her swinging powerfully along, balancing a great bundle on her head, and fresh as a daisy after her six-mile walk. She might have been anywhere from fifty to seventy, but she was as tough and gnarled as an old hickory root.

"You say you have a separate cabin for me?" she asked. She could scarcely read or write but she spoke the most precise English with a beautiful Cambridge accent.

"Over in the orchard," I said. "It'll need some fixing."

"Sarah drew a deep breath. 'Til stay,' she said. 'And don't worry about the cabin. I'm a good carpenter. You need one, too, madam. I see several places that require repairs.'"

Cool of her, but I wasn't sorry Sarah was a real treasure. She cut firewood; planted a wonderful garden; but buttercup, my rather skittish Jersey cow, following her around like a dog in no time, and even took a terrible tongue-lashing from Professor Saunders, a pernickety old fustibudget who has a summer place next to mine, without a sign of rancor.

"The gentleman was quite within his rights," she said. "Buttercup ate his pannaies." But I noticed that she swung her wicked looking machete, the yard-long Jamaican knife she used in place of an axe, with extra vigor—and I prayed that the professor would continue to stay within his rights.

Things went on smoothly through June. I rented my other cabin to a Mrs. Jones, a quiet little widow whose eight-year-old son was recuperating from a siege of pneumonia. Eric took a great fancy to Sarah, and she adored him. You'd see them at all hours of the day, Eric trotting to keep up with Sarah's long strides, and growing rosier and stronger by the hour.

Then came the Fourth. Eric, equipped with a precious half-dollar's worth of fireworks, had made Sarah promise to wake him at the crack of dawn so that he could set them off. I guess most of us remember that thrill of stealing out while the sky's still gray to start celebrating the day in proper style. I know that I, for one, didn't begrudge the kid his fun, but I got up early, too, thinking a cup of coffee would be welcome to Mrs. Jones after dressing the little fellow. From the kitchen window I saw Eric dart off, laughing, to the little back that divided my property from the Saunders place (we'd all agreed that would be the safest); heard a few tremendous bangs, and then all was silence. I went on getting breakfast ready, but finally, puzzled at the continued quiet, looked out again. I saw Sarah swinging down from her cabin, machete in hand, and knew that we were in for trouble.

Eric, leaping against the railing of the bridge, was crying fit to break his heart, but Sarah didn't stop to comfort him. She strode right over to the Saunders' house where the professor, barefoot and in pajamas, was just entering the front door. Sarah reached him before he could close it, grabbed him by the jacket collar, and swished her weapon so close to his right ear that he must have heard it whistle.

"I believe in justice," she shouted. "It was an act of tyranny to throw that child's fireworks into the book simply because he disturbed your sleep! You shall make restitution!"

Mrs. Saunders stumbled out on to the porch, shrieking.

"Throw me my wallet," Saunders yelled at her. "This crazy woman'll kill me if you don't!"

His wife flew indoors and came back with a well stuffed bill-fold. She threw it out on to the lawn.

"Pick it up!" commanded Sarah, flinging the long knife back of the professor's neck. He picked up the wallet, all right.

"Now march yourself over to Mrs. Jones' cottage," Sarah ordered. "Til follow you."

Saunders broke into a run, Sarah right after him, chipping at his bare heels with the machete. Mrs. Jones had heard the commotion and had run over to my house. We stood there on the porch steps, our arms around each other, and Eric dashed over and hid behind us as Saunders and Sarah came into the yard.

The professor tossed Mrs. Jones the wallet. "Take out whatever the fireworks are worth," he pleaded. "And for heaven's sake, Mrs. Taylor, call off this fiend!"

"Sarah!" I said, "go back to your work."

Sarah straightened up, patting the long knife affectionately. "With pleasure, madam," she said, "now that justice has been done." And off she stalked like two tomatoes unconcernedly, while Professor Saunders crossed the brook in nothing flat.

My own morale was a bit shaken. "There's fresh coffee in the kitchen, Mrs. Jones," I said weakly. "Would you mind bringing me a cup . . . out here?"

Material For Cloting

Process Invented In Denmark Which Makes Cow's Hair Suitable

Cow's hair is being used in the manufacture of clothing in Denmark, according to Copenhagen reports received by grapevine in the United States. A process has been devised by which the hair is prepared for spinning. Denmark is also making clothes out of paper. Flax is cultivated on 17,300 acres, the largest plantings in the last 100 years, and is providing the sewing yarn for the shoe industry, as well as for other purposes.

Canada-Built de Havilland Mosquito

Peter B. Masfield, British airplane technical expert recently rated the de Havilland Mosquito, the North American Mustang, and the Consolidated Liberator as "the three most outstanding aircraft in the world today."

Writing in the aviation magazine "Flying," Mr. Masfield, personal adviser on civil aviation to Lord Beaverbrook, placed the Mosquito "among the galaxy of fine aircraft, combining speed with a shattering weight of fire in its fighter form, and range and bomb load in its bomber version."

In its own category, the Mosquito was awarded the unusually high ratings of 93.2 per cent. as a day and night reconnaissance bomber, 91.9 per cent. as a bomber, and 95.2 per cent. as a night intruder-fighter.

In his article, Mr. Masfield explained the method of choosing the different top planes and remarked that "no enemy types qualify."

The Mosquito is built on the continent by de Havilland Aircraft of Canada, Limited, in a plant situated outside the city of Toronto.

FIGHTING T.B. IN INDUSTRY

"Findings indicate that in industrial groups not previously surveyed one may expect to find 264 persons in every 100,000 who require treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis," says Dr. A. R. Riddell of the Industrial Division of the Ontario Department of Health, in a recent article in Health magazine. "The majority of these should be in sanatoria. In addition there are some 346 in every 100,000 concerning whom there is some doubt." Dr. Riddell continues.

Knowing as he does the expense entailed in the use of standard X-ray films in the handling of large groups, Dr. Riddell recommends the photographic miniature films. These have proved most satisfactory and are, for all practical purposes, miniature X-ray photographs. "They are readily examined," says Dr. Riddell, "and can easily be stored in small space to be kept for record purposes." Small films are examined through the use of a suitable magnifying instrument, or, upon being enlarged, may be projected on a screen such as is used for lantern slides.

Since this miniature film was pioneered in 1924 by Dr. Abreu of Brazil, it has been adopted in Canada, the United States, Great Britain, Australia, and Germany. In both Great Britain and the United States it is used in examining the personnel of navies. Australia uses it in the examination of recruits for the fighting forces, and Canada, in mass chest radiography of the R.C.A.F. personnel.

Many industrial workers are being examined in Ontario. In all cases this is just a preliminary screening. Those found to require medical advice are so advised by the plant doctor.

Dr. Riddell urges that a matter so important . . . and likely to increase in gravity due to the war . . . should be given attention now.

JUST THE SURFACE

Two Negro soldiers were on a transport going overseas. Standing on the deck they gazed out across the vast expanse of water.

First Negro—That's the mo' water I've ever seen in all my whole life. Did you ever see so much water?

Second Negro—Yo' ain't seen nothing yet. That's just the top ob it.

Mutual Understanding

Welding The English Speaking Nations Together By Confidence

Unaccounted millions of words have been written and spoken with the object of welding the English-speaking nations by friendship and understanding into a degree of harmony that can stand the disturbing factors of peace as it does those of war.

Words in such a cause are fine, but we think that far more effective is such a little story as came from the Mediterranean the other day.

A ship carrying United States soldiers, said, a Cairo despatch, was attacked twice by enemy aircraft, apparently was in grave peril. But fighters of the Royal Air Force each time came to the rescue, drove off the Germans and saved the troopship. The soldiers, moved by their escape, chipped in $4,000 as an expression of their gratitude, the money to go to the dependents of any R.A.F. casualties resulting from the two actions.

Some time ago there was a story of United States soldiers at a camp in Britain collecting a large sum of money among themselves to assure hospital treatment for a little crippled English boy they had come to know in the neighborhood.

Incidents such as these are far more powerful than the most eloquent words to bring these countries into the relationship of trust, confidence and mutual respect which all of us so much want to see. In so intangible a sphere deeds do literally speak louder than words.—Ottawa Journal.

SMILE AWHILE

Oldtime: "Is your married life one grand sweet song?"

Newly Wed: "Well, since our baby's been born it's more like an opera, full of grand marches, with loud calls for the author every night."

Barber—"Wet or dry, sir?"

Customer—"Comb my hair and don't mind about my politics."

She: "I shall love to share all your troubles."

He: "But, darling, I have no troubles."

She: "Silly, I mean when we are married."

"My wife has the worst memory I ever heard of."

"Forgets everything?"

"No; remembers everything!"

Darling, you are the seventh wonder of the world."

"Well listen, soldier, don't ever let me catch you out with the other six."

Harold: "What are all those old mugs I used to see in your shop?"

Barber: "They have taken to shaving themselves, sir."

Pop: "My goodness, you ask a lot of questions! I'd like to know what would have happened if I'd asked as many questions when I was a boy."

Son: "Maybe you'd have been able to answer some of mine."

"I'm having a hard time meeting expenses these days. How about you?"

"Not at all. I meet 'em at every turn."

"Nit: Throw that piece of bread away. Why are you holding it in the street?"

Wit: "I'm just waiting for the traffic jam."

Mistress: "Just what can be the matter with my husband this morning?"

He: "He whistled and sang as he went off to work."

Maid: "Oh dear! It's my fault. I cooked the canary seed instead of the breakfast cereal this morning."

Sgt.: So, you're complaining of finding sand in your soup?"

Pvt.: Yes, sir.

Sgt.: Did you join the army to serve your country or complain about the food?"

Pte.: I joined the army to serve my country, sir, but not to eat it.

A Good Explanation

Woman Had Her Reason For Taking Goat On Bus

All try to make allowances in wartime. On our local bus routes (writes "J.S.R.") conductresses and passengers alike stretch a point to such an extent that, even on a wet day, a large old English sheepdog has been tolerated. The limit was reached the other day, however, when, at the foot of the mile-long hill ascending out of our village, a lady climbed into the bus accompanied by a goat. The conductress hesitated, but thought perhaps, as things were so difficult and there was a war on—well, if nobody on board objected . . .

As she passed the conductress the lady blithely observed that she had brought the goat out for a little much-needed exercise and had thought that Nanny would find it easier to walk downhill all the way.

Good Homemakers

Illinois Schoolboys Prove They Are As Efficient As Girls

Eight boys who are full-fledged members of the domestic science class of an Illinois school have convinced school officials that boys as well as girls can learn to become good homemakers. The boys are learning how to cook, care for babies, make beds and otherwise manage a household. Three times a week they roll up their sleeves, don aprons and work alongside girls in the class.

Superintendent Hubert Pearce said the boys are "not slaves; they are in command, and they have proved that such youngsters can learn to be good homemakers."

Looks Like A Snub

Turkey Abandons Government Run By Germans In Northern Italy

Turkey decided to abandon the new Mussolini "Government," and recall her Ambassador and his entire staff from Rome and accredit them to the Badoglio Government in Southern Italy.

This is a quiet snub for Germany, which is running the so-called Northern Italian Government. It is unlikely that another envoy will be sent to Rome. Ankara has decided that any Italian Government supported by the Allies shall be the only one to be recognized.—London Daily Sketch.

THAT "FREE" ENTERPRISE

It will be a sorry day for the Canadian workers if those who want to re-establish "free" enterprise after the war are successful in their aim. It will mean a return to the "freedom" of the worker to search for a job that isn't there. Mineworkers will be "free" to work from 65 to 120 days in the year with full "freedom" to starve with their families or go on relief for the rest of the year.

Organized labor in Canada must set its face against the restoration of the "four freedoms" of unemployment, insecurity, want and the fear of want which the workers ## of Canada experienced before the war.

Labor must fight now against every element in the country which is seeking to re-establish the so-called "free enterprise" of the pre-war years.

There is only one way in which present scales of production in Canada may be maintained after the war so that all workers may be employed and a full standard of living provided for every Canadian family, and that is by continued national control over the Canadian economy and by government spending for peace as we now have government spending for war—Canadian Mineworkers.

THOUGHTS OF A MINEWORKER

Premier Manning, E. G. Hansell, M.P., and other Social Crediters have the audacity to class the CCF as a party sponsoring Nazism for Canada.

Let's see now. Who was it that wanted to muzzle the press; to license white-collared workers; to fire the mounted police so they could set up their own "Gestapo"? Who was it that threw an Alberta unemployed delegation out of a S.C. meeting at Melville, Sask.? What party was it who hand-picked and O.K'd every man before he could run for a seat in the legislature? Who was it who demanded that unemployed old men be isolated in rest camps at only two meals a day, and if they didn't accept, they were cut off relief? Who is it who refuses to heed the pleas of Alberta widowed mothers for more sustenance etc. etc.

If Manning sees the shadow of Nazism in Canada today, it comes from his own party and nowhere else—Nuttie Coal in Canadian Mineworker.

AUDITOR'S CERTIFICATE

We have audited the accounts of the Town of Blaimore for the year ending December 31, 1943, and have compared the said accounts with their relative vouchers and certify that in our opinion the foregoing financial statements are properly drawn up, so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the financial affairs of the Town, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us, and as shown by the records, subject to any qualifications mentioned in Auditors' Special Report herewith.

Dated at Blaimore this 19th day of January, 1944.

Signed COLLINS & COLLINS,
Chartered Accountants,
Address: Calgary, Alberta.

The famous Dionne quintuplets attended their first moving picture show at North Bay this week.

Fred Green leaves Blaimore today to take a new position under Mr. Marc Plard at Turner Valley.

Robert Gardiner, of Calgary, has been re-elected president of the United Farmers of Alberta for his 14th term.

Away back about thirty-five years ago a Calgary paper had this nasty joke: "Why is Bob Edwards of High River like a nun?" "Because he is not allowed to associate with the community as a whole."

The game warden's office has given notice to pick up all dog owners if they are caught running at large without muzzles.

A ministerial association was recently formed at Pictou, Nova Scotia. The new president is Rev. L. R. Bent, the vice-president Rev. Andrew E. MacKenzie, and the secretary-treasurer Rev. G. M. Lamont. The association was formed for the purpose of bringing about closer harmony and fellowship between the various congregations, and also to help bring the service of the church into closer relations with the needs of the community as a whole.

Elsie E. Buckna, of Coleman, has enlisted in the CWAC in Calgary.

Recent appointment of commissioners for oaths are announced from Edmonton, including the following: Frank Arthur Beebe, Arthur Robert Bourne, James Harrington Farmer, Sylvester Joseph Lamey, Cecil Morris Larbaletier, Robert Oakes, Allison Lloyd Ramsey Davidson, all of Blaimore; Ernest Fisher, Charles Reuben Ritchie, Bellevue; Albert Francis Short, Sidney Charles Short, Coleman, and John Alexander Welsh, Cowley. Albert Wilson Hollinghead, of Hurlbert, has been appointed notary public.

Post-War Relief For Europe

FOREMOST AMONG THE MANY problems which must be dealt with by the United Nations at the close of the war, will be that of providing the oppressed people of Europe with the necessities of life. This will be a vast undertaking, and it will have to be commenced at the earliest possible moment after hostilities cease. The urgency of the problem is fully realized and already plans have been made for the alleviation of the suffering of the many thousands of people who are now under Nazi domination. A United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has been set up, and at a conference held in Atlantic City not long ago, the probable needs of these people, and the means of securing relief for them, were discussed. It is apparent that there will be need of close international co-operation in the gigantic task, and as a great food producing nation Canada will be in a position to contribute much toward the relief of those countries where appalling conditions of famine and disease now prevail.

Estimates Of Future Needs

Some interesting facts relating to the estimated requirements for relief for the occupied countries of Europe during the six months following the end of the war, are contained in a report which was submitted by the Inter-Allied Committee on Post-War Requirements to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration conference. This Inter-Allied Committee sits in London, and the figures in its report were based on the opinions of experts from France, Holland, Greece, Belgium and the other Occupied Countries. It is estimated that Europe's minimum need for food, raw materials and other necessities during the first six month period will be 45,855,000 tons. This does not include the needs of Russia or of neutral or enemy countries. The goods to be imported will require 23,485,000 tons of shipping space, which is a little more than the total shipping space available to Great Britain and the Dominions in 1939. Shipments would be made up of 89,000 tons of drugs and medical supplies, 7,332,000 tons of food, 1,150,000 tons of coal and coke for domestic and industrial purposes, and 9,462,000 tons of base metals and materials for construction work.

European Death Rate Is Rising

These estimated needs for foodstuffs were based on the minimum nutrition requirement, which is 2,000 calories per day for each man, woman and child. At present the diet in these countries is far below this requirement. In Norway it is thought that the present diet may yield 1,440 calories, in Denmark it is said to be less than that, and in Poland the general diet does not contain more than 500 to 700 calories, according to a recent report released on this subject by the International Labor Office. This same report tells of the wide prevalence of tuberculosis and other contagious diseases in occupied Europe and of rising death rates. It is apparent that many of the most complex post-war problems will be in connection with the relief and rehabilitation of Europe, and much will depend upon the way in which it is approached. The report of the Inter-Allied Committee draws attention to this fact, and concludes by pointing out that "The provision of relief and rehabilitation will be a test of the capacity of the United Nations to rebuild a more prosperous world and realize the pressing of the four freedoms, 'Freedom from Want,' in their territories."

Japanese Trick

Broadcast Recording Of Voice Of Man Who Had Died

How a soldier's voice lived on the airways for months after he was reported dead was told at Halifax by a brother, Bert Panceo of Winnipeg, a telegrapher in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Pte. Michael W. Panceo was one of the Canadian soldiers who were sent to Hong Kong just before the garrison fell to the Japanese at Christmas time, 1941.

Last August his family had a letter from his doctor saying he had died from beri beri, and a short while later official confirmation of his death came from Ottawa. But for months afterwards people in different parts of the world heard his voice on the radio—the last time in Australia last month, his brother said.

"Hello, mum," said the voice of the dead soldier, then came a few words of greeting and his name and address.

The Japs had made a recording of his message to the people back home, and after his death continued to broadcast it for some reason, said the brother.

Food Values

List Of The Nutritional Merit Of Different Vegetables

Graded as sources of vitamins A, C and E and iron and calcium, vegetables, cooked or raw according to customary usage, were arranged in the following order of merit as protective foods at the recent meeting of the Nutritional Panel of the Society of Chemical Industry, London, Eng. First came the green vegetables, broccoli tops, watercress, mustard and cress, brussels sprouts, and spinach, rich in carotene, and very rich in Vitamin C, and containing useful contributions of iron and calcium, although it was doubtful whether the calcium in the spinach was utilizable.

Next came cabbage and cauliflower which still contained substantial amounts of vitamin C but negligible quantities of carotene. In green vegetables, carotene is associated with greenness. When the heart of a cabbage is blanched, it thereby forfeits its rank in the highest class of protective vegetables.

Tomato and lettuce fell in the middle of the list. They contained more carotene but much less vitamin C.

Vegetables with only one-fifth of the concentration of green were placed at the bottom of the list, namely, turnips, green peas, radishes, leeks, parsnips, string beans, and onions. Asparagus, cucumber, celery, and marrow, contained so little vitamins or minerals that they could not be graded at all, said the report.

AN OLD-TIMER

Jack Miner, who bands ducks and geese and other birds at his sanctuary in Kingsville, Ont., to make study of their migrations route, has received word of a goose, banded in the fall of 1927, being shot Dec. 11 by Julian Crew, of Worton, Kentucky County, Maryland. The goose had carried the band 18 years, which meant that it had made 32 trips across the continent, Mr. Miner said.

Aviation Centre

C.P.R. Air Lines To Establish Main Repair Plant At Winnipeg

T. W. SIERS

The growing importance of Winnipeg as an air centre is further emphasized by the announcement by C. H. Dickens, Vice-President and General Manager of Canadian Pacific Air Lines at Montreal, that CPA will establish its main overhaul and repair plant for both aircraft and engines in Winnipeg.

T. W. Siers, one of the pioneers of Canadian aviation, and presently General Superintendent of Maintenance of Canadian Pacific Air Lines system at Montreal, will open new offices at Winnipeg this month. It is also planned to transfer the company's engineering division from Edmonton to Winnipeg and this work will be under the supervision of Aeronautical Engineer A. C. Clarkson.

W. H. Rolfe, now assistant to the Acting Superintendent of Maintenance on Western Lines of CPA at Edmonton, will also be located at Winnipeg as assistant to the General Superintendent of Maintenance.

This new change in the location of CPA overhaul and repair facilities will result in Winnipeg being a central point to do this work for the company's 80 airplanes now flying on routes and in many areas from Quebec to the Yukon. It will mean an increased volume of work for the local aircraft maintenance employees and will also assist in making better known the advantages of Winnipeg as one of the main centres in Canadian air operations and overhaul work.

MOOSE AND BEAR MEAT

Moose and bear meat will be on the menus of the corvette skam and the Moose squadron of the R.C.A.F. overseas. Volunteers at Kamloops, B.C., will can 300 pounds of meat for the sailors and airmen.

The potato is a corruption of the Indian name "batatas."

Quickly Made, Quickly Eaten Is This All-Bran Prune Bread

Now we know why "quick breads" are so named. After the first taste, everyone comes back for more. The whole loaf vanishes, quick as a wink, if you don't watch out!

All-Bran Prune Bread is grand for sandwiches. It has a pleasantly moist texture and a grand nutty flavor. Made with prunes and All-Bran, it is rich in iron and Vitamin B.

Perhaps you've thought breads were difficult to make; why not try this recipe and see how simple it is?

ALL-BRAN PRUNE BREAD

2 cups All-Bran
1 cup juice from cooked prunes
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons soda
1 cup chopped cooked prunes
1 cup chopped nuts*

Soak All-Bran in juice drained from prunes and buttermilk. Cream sugar and shortening thoroughly; add egg and beat well. Add All-Bran mixture. Sift flour with salt and soda and add to first mixture with prunes and nuts. Stir only until flour disappears. Bake in a greased loaf pan in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour and 20 minutes. Yield: 1 loaf (9 1/2 x 5 1/2 pan).

*Nuts may be omitted.

Winter Feed For Sheep

Proper Nutrition Plays A Very Important Part In Wool Production

The war demand for still more wool brings into prominence the fact that the winter feeding of roughage to sheep constitutes a problem in the production of high quality wool. Proper nutrition plays an important part in wool production. Half-starved sheep cannot produce wool in quantity, or quality, because the increase in the amount of wool is the result of a combination of factors. The most important factor is plenty of good feed. When proper feed is lacking a short weak fibre is produced and the value of the wool is decreased by at least two cents a pound.

The proper feeding of roughage necessitates a proper manner of feeding it, which in turn demands the greatest care on the part of the shepherd to produce racks of suitable quality. A desirable type of rack is one so constructed that small portions of the feeding material, such as chaff and leaves of legumes, may not lodge in the fleece of the sheep as the sheep feed at the rack. There are many types of racks, specifications for which may be obtained by applying to any Dominion Experimental Farm or Station, or Agricultural College.

To protect the fleece of the sheep, when feeding material is being carried to the racks, it should not be passed over their backs. It is better to remove the flock before the racks are to be filled. At all times care should be taken to prevent litter falling on the fleeces. For the same reason, sheep should never be allowed to feed from the side of a hay or straw rack because such a method is ruinous to the production of high quality wool, through seeds and chaff getting into the fleece.

World Was Searched

To Make Possible Shipment Of Needed Goods To Russia

The volume of goods flowing to Russia over-land via Iran has passed $70,000,000, Sir Francis Joseph, acting chairman of the United Kingdom Commercial Corporation, said in London. He declared that "miracles of improvisation" had been performed to get the material in motion. Supplies have consisted of beer, juice goods, rope, cloth, thousands of tons of tea, cocoa and flour, tools, electrical equipment, boots, nails, shellac and graphite. The world was combed to find it all, he explained.

HAS BECOME FAVORITE

A high-speed machine gun—the German Spandau—which fires 1,100 rounds a minute, was reported the great favorite of British and American troops in Italy. Thousands of Spandaus, enough to outfit an entire division, were captured in the African and Sicilian campaigns. Allied soldiers with front-line experience knew the fire-eater well—from its sound effects of a super-buzz saw.

An Anniversary

For one year every Canadian housewife has held the key to healthful and nutritious meals for her family; for Canada's Official Food Rules are celebrating their first anniversary. In January, 1943, the Nutrition Services at Ottawa gave to Canadian housewives a list of the minimum daily requirements of the foods necessary to protect health. This was one of the ways in which even the busiest housewife could do her bit for her country and her family.

Now, in January 1944, as we look back over the year, we would each say to ourselves, "Have I done my part?" Do you know the Official Food Rules so thoroughly that you can lift your eyes from this page and recite them? These are the foods that should have been included in each day's menu during the year—

- MILK—Adults, 1/2 pint. Children, more than 1 pint. And some cheese, as available.
  - FRUITS—One serving of tomatoes or citrus fruit daily; and one serving of other fruit, fresh, canned or dried.
  - VEGETABLES—One serving potatoes. Two servings of vegetables, preferably green or yellow, and frequently raw.
  - CEREALS—One serving of a whole-grain cereal. Four to six slices of Canada Approved Bread, brown or white.
  - MEAT, FISH—One serving a day of meat, fish, or meat substitute. Liver, heart, or kidney once a week.
  - EGGS—At least three or four weekly.
- Eat these foods first, when available, then add other foods you wish. Some source of Vitamin D such as fish liver oil, is essential for children. The Nutrition Division of the Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, now has, for distribution at less than cost, a colorful calendar portraying simply the foods one should eat daily for proper nutrition. Hang one on your kitchen wall to remind you, through all the days of 1944, that Canada's Food Rules are on the front line for home defense!

To Make Future Secure

If Germany Pays Reparations She Cannot Launch Armament Program

Wilhelm Morgenstern, Norwegian ambassador to the United States, told a press conference that Germany should be forced to pay "as far as possible" for war damage, with a view to blocking her rearmament for a third world war. He explained it was not a matter of getting revenge, but the dictates of experience following the First World War. He pointed out that within a few years after Germany had ceased paying reparations, she had launched a large-scale armament program which made possible her attacks on other countries. "Our point-of-view," said the ambassador, "is to secure future generations against a third attack by the mechanized barbarians on the freedom-loving countries."—Sault Daily Star.

Thanks!

A New Year commences, and to our customers throughout Canada go our sincere thanks and appreciation for the co-operation shown during 1943.

Inevitable changes have gradually been made in our Mail Order Catalogue. As our country's war effort has been redoubled, many items which were once staple lines are no longer available—more confining restrictions have been placed on goods available for civilian consumption—delivery dates in some cases have been unavoidably held up.

It is your understanding of these conditions which has done much to lighten the difficult job of serving Canadian Farm homes in wartime.
